Introduction

This is one booklet in a series to help provide a reference for club members and club leaders to better understand the components and flow of the Pathways learning experience™.

The goal is to more easily to get the most from the educational opportunities offered to all members.

Projects Descriptions

There are a total of 57 Projects use in Pathways. For the PATH there are 10 Required Projects. To complete Level 3, you will do 2 Electives projects. For Levels 4 and 5, you will do 1 Elective project for each Level projects. There are a total of 10 Projects per path. However, your assignments within each project vary.

Below are the codes used for the Paths and Levels. Also, VPE is the abbreviation for Vice President Education.

I hope this series is helpful for you. Below are the basic components in Pathways. There are 10 Paths (10 different courses). In each Path there are 5 Levels which offer projects that are designed to be progressively more challenging to stretch and encourage you to develop more advanced skills

The Codes for 10 Paths

- DL = Dynamic Leadership
- EC = Effective Coaching
- IP = Innovative Planning
- LD = Leadership Development
- MS = Motivational Strategies
- PI = Persuasive Influence
- PM = Presentation Mastery
- SR = Strategic Relationships
- TC = Team Collaboration
- VC = Visionary Communication

The 5 Levels Codes

- L1 = Level 1
- L2 = Level 2
- L3 = Level 3
- L4 = Level 4
- L5 = Level 5

The THREE Classifications

Studying the focus of the Required Projects and I came up with three groups: These are:

Public Speaking is the process or act of performing a speech designed to: inform, persuade and entertain.

Management is the administration of an organization. It includes the activities of setting the strategy of an organization and coordinating the efforts of its employees/volunteers to accomplish its objectives.

Leadership, specifically strategic leadership is the ability to influence others to voluntarily make decisions that enhance the prospects of the organization's long-term success stability.

The THREE Categories

The big question: "what Path do you suggest?" The truth - there is no WRONG Path. However, there are Paths that are better for members' specific goals and consideration of their time availability - outside of Toastmasters. It is a shame if a member gets themselves into something that is more than they want to or have time to do.

Fact - it are the REQUIRED projects that determine the assignments. In evaluating the Required Projects, I developed a Rating Code for each Path.. The items in my matrix included the following considerations.

Outside activities required - Speech time

Skill of new age communication methods

Number of assignments in the project - Estimated preparation time

Skills for speaking / presentation - Plus - Subjective consideration

Category Group A. Recommended for New Members

Requires the least amount of investment / commitment in time and less experience in the skills categories.

Presentation Mastery (A-1)

Motivational Strategies (A-2)

Leadership Development (A-3)

Category Group B. Requires more of an Investment

Requires more commitment in time and a higher level of computer, new age communication skills and/or more speaking or presentation skills.

Strategic Relationships (B-1)

Dynamic Leadership (B-2)

Visionary Communication (B3)

Category Group C. Requires the most Investment

Requires the most time, in some cases up a 6 month commitment and/or more computer and/or new age communication skills and/or more speaking or presentation skills.

Team Collaboration (C-1)

Effective Coaching (C-2)

Innovative Planning (C-3)

Persuasive Influence (C-4)
